

Kangaroo Island

Nurrungai · Ngarrindjeri Country, SA · South Australia, Australia

Kangaroo Island — Nurrungai in the Ngarrindjeri language — is one of Australia's most extraordinary natural and cultural destinations. Its wildlife is unique, its landscapes are recovering, and its communities are resilient. Please follow these guidelines to ensure your visit contributes positively to the island's future.

WILDLIFE — CRITICAL RULES

Kangaroo Island's wildlife is wild and often at close range. Keep a respectful distance from all animals. At Seal Bay, always remain with a ranger and never approach or block sea lions — they can move quickly. Do not touch, feed or disturb any wildlife anywhere on the island.

DOS AND DON'TS

DO

- ☐ Acknowledge Ngarrindjeri Country on arrival
- ☐ Remain with a ranger at Seal Bay at all times
- ☐ Keep 300m from whales, 5m from sea lions
- ☐ Stay on marked tracks in national parks
- ☐ Purchase from local KI producers and operators
- ☐ Use reef-safe sunscreen at beaches
- ☐ Check park open/close times before each day
- ☐ Book the KI Indigenous Day Tour if available
- ☐ Carry water and sun protection at all times
- ☐ Report injured wildlife to KI Wildlife Rescue

DO NOT

- ☐ Feed any wildlife — including kangaroos
- ☐ Approach, touch or block sea lions or seals
- ☐ Drive at dawn, dusk or night — high wildlife collision risk
- ☐ Remove any plants, rocks or natural material
- ☐ Litter anywhere — including beaches and parks
- ☐ Enter marine sanctuary zones (no-take, no-entry)
- ☐ Approach nesting Glossy Black-Cockatoos (Apr–Oct)
- ☐ Bring unchecked food or plant material to the island
- ☐ Approach Southern Right Whales within 300m
- ☐ Buy souvenirs made from protected species

ROAD SAFETY

KI has one of Australia's highest wildlife collision rates. Never drive at dawn, dusk or night. Reduce speed near bushland at all times. Many hire car agreements prohibit night driving.

NGARRINDJERI CULTURAL RESPECT

Remarkable Rocks, Admirals Arch and Vivonne Bay hold deep spiritual significance. Engage with these sites respectfully. Seek out the KI Indigenous Day Tour to understand the island through Ngarrindjeri eyes.

BIOSECURITY — IMPORTANT

Kangaroo Island is free of foxes and rabbits — two of Australia's most destructive introduced species. Do not bring unchecked fruit, vegetables, plants or soil to the island. Clean boots and outdoor gear before arrival. Biosecurity protects the island's extraordinary natural heritage.
